

Go green for a better world

Students of Sri Sri Academy celebrate Van Mahotsav by hosting an inter-house fest Prakritinama. As the students get creative, they learn how to be responsible towards the planet as well. Young Metro reports...

Principal Gargi Banerjee (extreme right) and other guests inaugurate Prakritinama 2.0 at Sri Sri Academy auditorium. The guests were Soumini Sen Dua who works for plastic waste management, academician and green activist Swati Nandi Chakraborty, pollution activist Ramesh Chandran and Gargi Maitra

Students explain their culinary creativity to the judges

Students from different houses take part in a poetry-writing contest at Sri Sri Academy

Students of Sri Sri Academy present an inaugural dance on the occasion of Prakritinama 2.0

Members of the Fellowship for Sustainable Services Club, that organised the inter-house green fest, take a group picture at the school auditorium

The Fellowship for Sustainable Services (FFSS) club of Sri Sri Academy celebrated Van Mahotsav and the greenery around through an inter-house fest, Prakritinama 2.0, on July 11. The event was held on the school grounds.

The second edition of Prakritinama, comprised of five events and loads of learning and excitement.

There were three off-stage events - Prakritik Swasthya (non-flame cooking), Prakritik Kalakari (T-shirt painting), Prakritik Shayari (poetry writing) and two on-stage events - Prakritik Abhushan (Fashion show) and Prakritik Vigyan (Advertisement) combining the creativity and sustainability to show the young generation the path to a promising teach students how to be environment-friendly in small ways.

The event began with lighting of the inaugural lamp principal Gargi Banerjee and guests of honour Soumini Sen Dua who works for plastic waste management, academician and green activist Swati Nandi Chakraborty, pollution activist Ramesh Chandran and Gargi Maitra who were invited to witness the events.

Participants of each house displayed a lot of enthusiasm as they took part in the different activities. A lot of creative ideas were exposed while students experiment with cooking, art and painting. The audience were also as excited, cheering one and all.

The event ended with the prizes. Yukti house became the champion for the first time. The event was a successful spread awareness about a sustainable life.

Being a part of the FFSS club and organising Prakritinama 2.0 as the president of this club under the guidance of our teachers brought a sense of pride and excitement among us. It was one of my great experiences organising this fest during my last year in this institution

Vanshika Chaturvedi
Class XII

Prakritinama, the nature fest, was a commendable initiative that helped foster environmental awareness and appreciation among students from Classes VI-XII. It provided an excellent platform for nurturing love for nature and instilling a sense of responsibility towards the environment, in all students. I feel privileged to have worked with my FFSS team, learning meticulously about the art of cooperation and team work, all along this enriching journey

Diya Kapoor
Class X

This inter-house fest, paid tribute to mother nature on the occasion of Van Mahotsav. It transformed people's mindset, eradicating ignorance and fostering responsibility towards our planet. Personally, it changed me by making me realise that Earth has its own music for those who listen

Devanshi Agarwal
Class X

Prakritinama 2.0, organised by our school on the occasion of Van Mahotsav was the best platform to involve the youth to motivate each other for building a sustainable future. This was a unique way to expose Gen Z to learn how to conserve the earth and become true leaders for a better, safer, greener and cleaner world

Rinku Das Mamora
teachers

Nature fest, Prakritinama 2.0, organised by the Fellowship for Sustainable Services Club of our school, is a small step towards energising and motivating the youth to become responsible and eco-conscious

Gargi Banerjee
principal

I was so honoured to be invited as a guest speaker because I got to see the carbon consciousness of an entire school. I wish every school in the city could be trained about environment like these children and have a Prakritinama of their own. Green hugs to the children

Soumini Sen Dua
environment activist

Privileged to be invited to this fest by Sri Sri Academy. The performances were well planned. The fashion show and the advertisement events were enjoyable and educative. So much can be achieved for the betterment of environment if we can take the advices of these brilliant students seriously and implement them

Ramesh Chandran
environmental activist

This kind of activities promote environmental awareness and mobilise students' participation for environment conservation and enable us to lead sustainable way of life

Swati Nandi Chakraborty
environmental activist